Solar Flip-Flop: Evolution of the Solar Magnetic Field from 1997 to 2013.

Not flipping yet! The solar flip!

theaurorazone.com > about-the-aurora/the-northern-

On 06 December 2013, NASA predicted that the sun's polarity would flip sometime in December which would herald the peak of the current Solar Cycle 24.

Solar Pole Flip Already?, page 1 | Forum

abovetopsecret.com > forum/thread8611/pg1

In 2001 the solar magnetic field completely flipped; the south and north poles swapped positions, which is how they remain now.

The Sun's Magnetic Poles Have Flipped...Solar Cycle...

thesuntoday.org > solar-science/suns-magnetic-poles...

The entire sun's magnetic polarity flips approximately every 11 years – though sometimes it takes quite a bit longer – and defines what's known as the solar cycle.

Flipping Out Over the Solar Flip? | Cornwall Alliance

cornwallalliance.org > 2013/08/flipping-out-over...

Then the sunspots slowly begin to vanish. Since we are cruising within the solar atmosphere, we can easily detect the flip.

This appears in the Vignettes of Cesar de Nostredame in the Lost Book.

I am having some trouble comprehending this bit, but it persistently appears throughout.
 SHOE RIND. SHOE is “shod horse” either Sagittarius or Pegasus and RIND means “on the Edge” so I do not know if it means on the cusp of Sagittarius – either side - or coming from Pegasus constellation.
